UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM

C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphine. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith."

A DROP OF WATER.

The Wonders That May Be Seen Therein Through a Microscope.

To the ordinary mortal a drop of water is what the primrose was to Peter Bell, a drop of water and nothing more, but to the student of nature, armed with a high power microscope, it immediately becomes a world teeming with living creatures, the most minute representatives of animal life. These thoughts were suggested by reading Professor Grace's description of a battle he once witnessed while examining a collection of rotifers, which were amassed in a single drop of fresh water. Among others, Mr. Grace noticed a fine specimen of infusorian, which was swimming back and forth among the rotifers, as if intent on mischief. On the following day it was noticed that the rotifer colony had lost several of its members, and that the infusorian's form had rounded out until he resembled a miniature St. Louis bartender. Mr. Grace now resolved to watch the infusorian's movements and ascertain if possible the modus operandi whereby the capture of such expert swimmers as the rotifers are known to be was effected. A few minutes' wait sufficed. Soon it was noticed that the infusorian was slowly and continuously working his way around the foot of a rotifer, which was resting on the glass slide.

Around and around he went as slyly as a mouse in an oats bin, and when he had finished it was noticed that the rotifer's foot was firmly cemented to the glass. The infusorian, seeming to know his victim was secure, began to goad the tethered creature and torment it in all the ways that devilish ingenuity could suggest. He would jump upon its back and bite it in several places with lightninglike rapidity and then spring off and seize a leg and pull it almost from its socket. Mr. Grace says that he watched this unequal combat for nearly a half hour, when it was noticed that the rotifer was dying from exhaustion. Noting the death of his victim, the infusorian proceeded to devour his prey, as he doubtless had done the others that were missing.

Mr. Grace next examined a small body of water, consisting of four drops, in which there were several infusoria and rotifers. The former proved the enemies of the latter, just as in the single drop previously examined. It was also noticed that the infusorian, having devoured a victim, would almost immediately divide into two or four new animals, each of which would quickly swim away in search of prey, just as its parent had done before.—St. Louis Republic.

BISMARCK'S BIG HEAD.

Measurements Showing That the Space For Brains In It Is Extraordinary.

Bismarck's head, says a correspondent of L'Anthropologie, has been carefully measured according to the rules of anthropometrics by the sculptor Schaph of Berlin, who made the statue of Bismarck set up at Cologne. The measurements prove that Bismarck has a head of extraordinarily large size. Measured horizontally from the frontal bone to the occiput the head is 212 millimeters, or more than 8.35½ inches. The distance from temple to temple is 170 millimeters, or a trifle over 6.69 inches. Bismarck's cranium has a capacity of 1,965 cubic centimeters, and his brain should weigh 1,867 grams.

These figures become especially significant when compared with the measurements of other heads. Of 2,500 heads measured at Baden Baden only one exceeded 200 millimeters horizontally from front to back, and that one measured 206 millimeters, or six millimeters less than Bismarck's. The mean measurements of 30 members of the Natural Science society at Carlsruhe were 195 millimeters from front to back by 155 millimeters from temple to temple. The biggest of these heads measured 205 by 162 millimeters. The cubic measurement of 245 German heads was nearly 500 cubic centimeters under Bismarck's, while the estimated weight of Bismarck's brain is 35 per cent above that of the average adult European brain. In fact, Bismarck is a man not only of blood and iron, but as well of brains.

He Knew Her Perfectly.

The outspoken ways and caustic sayings of Dr. Jephson of Leamington, celebrated in the forties and fifties, have furnished the kernel of many anecdotes. One day he was called on by one whom Brantome would have called "une grande dame de par la monde," the Marchioness of ——. Having listened to a description of her malady, the oracle pronounced judgment:

"An egg and a cup of tea for breakfast, then walk for two hours; a slice of cold beef and half a glass of madeira for luncheon, then walk again for two hours; fish, except salmon, and a cutlet or wing of fowl for dinner, with a single glass of madeira or claret; to bed at 10 and rise at 6, etc. No carriage exercise, please."

"But, doctor," she exclaimed at last, thinking he was mistaken in his visitor, "pray, do you know who I am? Do you know—ahem!—my position?"

"Perfectly, madame," was the reply. "I am prescribing for an old woman with a deranged stomach."—Nineteenth Century.

The Poitou Jack.

From the day he is born to the day of his death no brush or comb is ever allowed to be used on him, and as, from the unnatural condition in which he is kept, he is prevented in a great measure from shedding his coat the functions of the skin become suspended, and the animal gradually assumes year after year an accumulation of coats, all matted together with stable filth, till at length they almost trail on the ground. When he has assumed this extraordinary and bearlike appearance, he is pointed to with no little pride by his owner and is termed bourailloux, or sometimes guenilloux. Such is ignorance and prejudice. —From "Horses, Asses, Zebras, Mules," by W. R. Tegetmeier.

THE EVIL EYE.

And How a Coincidence Helped to Rivet the Chains of Superstition.

Miss Symonds and a party of friends had driven from Athens to the foot of Hymettus in a carriage drawn by two horses. The drive being over, the coachman proceeded to give corn to his horses. One of them, however, would not eat, but hung his head and refused all food. The driver, in a state of wild excitement, thereupon presented himself before his fares and declared, with frenzied words, that one of the ladies had "overlooked" the suffering horse, and that the beast was about to expire. The only way to get it cured from the effects of the evil eye was for the overlooked to spit upon it. The driver appears to have had no doubt which lady was the possessor of the evil power exercised upon his animal. Naturally enough, the lady in question had no great fancy to try this primitive form of veterinary surgery and refused.

The man's entreaties and adjurations, however, became so vehement and so threatening that at last the alleged possessor of the evil eye had to yield. No sooner had she spat upon the horse than a most welcome change set in. The beast, which had appeared to be at its last gasp, promptly grew better, and very soon was eating like its fellow. Of course the change was due to a coincidence. Probably the horse was at first too tired to eat, but during the discussion "to spit or not to spit" he no doubt got rested. By the time, then, the ceremony was performed he was quite fit for breakfast. It was, in fact, post hoc, not propter hoc. The spitting and the recovery following each other so closely was a mere coincidence. But though we may hold this view it was of course not held by the Greek coachman. He, we may be sure, felt at once completely confirmed in his belief in the evil eye.

The coincidence gave him what he thought ample proof of the efficacy of his charm against "overlooking." If nothing had happened, and the English ladies had been able to laugh at him for making one of them do a disagreeable thing without any result, the driver might have begun to think that, after all, his juggling rites were nonsense. Depend upon it, the coincidence rivetted the chains of superstition upon him tighter than ever. After the incident we have just noticed he will probably believe as firmly in the evil eye and the way to counteract its influence as he will in the procession of the seasons or the following of day by night.—London Spectator.

CHESS ON THE BRAIN.

A Noted Player Who at Times Fancies Himself a Bishop or Knight.

A chess champion, a German gentleman whose name is well known to all players and most nonplayers of that scientific game, recently told the writer that the intense mental activity which it was necessary to display while engaged in a combat on the board often led him to unconsciously do ridiculous things when the game was over.

"For instance," he said, "it is not an uncommon thing for me, when walking home in the evening after several games of chess at my club, to imagine that I am one of the pieces on the board. Quite unconsciously, and probably while thinking about something else, I will take great care to plant my feet firmly in the center of the flagstones and not step upon the lines that divide them. Again, the idea that I am a knight will seize me, and those who walk behind me are convulsed with laughter to see me take a step forward, and one to one side, which is not, to say the least of it, a dignified method of progress.

"Sometimes I am a bishop and move in a slanting direction, till forcible concussion with a wall brings me to my senses.

"It is very foolish, I know, but I cannot help it. I suppose it is that the game, its chances and possibilities are so continually running in my mind that chess to me is almost becoming a second nature."

The elder Roberts once, years ago, told an interviewer that so completely was his mind subjugated by billiards that he would often lie in bed and wonder if he could make a carom off the mantelpiece on to the washstand or "pot" the gas globe out of the window with the bedpost.—London Answers.

Bishop Fallows' Saloon.

The Home saloon of Bishop Fallows, in Chicago, fools a great many old topers. His idea is to make the place as much like a first class saloon as possible and to sell in it something as much like beer as science could concoct without its being the real thing. The saloon has a big bar, with a substantial rail, from which hang half a dozen towels. Back of the bar is a white coated bartender, and back of him are big mirrors and rows of shelves, covered with black bottles bearing gaudy labels. A row of lemons and a bowl of cracked ice help to make up the illusion. Every day some thirsty victim wanders in and orders "beer." He gets a glass of foaming something that cools, may cheer, but can't inebriate. The victim usually gulps it down, then opens and shuts his mouth and tries to recall the taste, while a puzzled look spreads over his face. Sometimes he asks questions, but usually he walks slowly away, wondering whether or not his stomach is all right. —Chicago Letter.

His Spree.

Youngster (who has just had a penny given to him)—'Ow much is them grapes, mister?

Shopkeeper (amused)—They are 4s. 6d. a pound, my lad.

Youngster—Well, then, give us a 'a'porth o' carrots. I'm a demon for fruit.—London Tit-Bits.

Life Is Short.

Citticus—I wonder how it is that so few women stutter when they talk.

Witticus—They haven't time.—Tammany Times.

WINE OF THE MORNING.

Some would quaff their nectar
From carven cups of gold,
That like an open flower,
With satin lips unrolled,
Exhales a liquid fragrance
Of luxury untold.

Some would quaff their nectar
From Venus' poppy lips,
The crimson fount of folly,
Where pulsing passion sips,
In drowsy dreams of sweetness,
Through which time thrills and slips.

But I would quaff the nectar
Whose fount is ever free—
Pure zephyrs from the mountain,
Salt breezes from the sea,
All fraught with morning's fervor,
And wild wings' poetry.

Take all earth's exultation!
Its rosy sweets divine,
Its perfumes and its purple,
Its rare and fair and fine;
The breeze is heaven's brewing,
God's blessing in his wine.
—Mary Berri Chapman.

A PUZZLED PHILOSOPHER.

Why Should He So Greatly Miss the Things That Are Not?

A philosopher dwelt in a house owned by Cleon. But one day Cleon came to the philosopher and said, "Why have you not sent me the money for last month's rent?" The philosopher said he knew of no reason except that he had no money, having gotten to the bottom of his purse.

"You will have to move out," said Cleon, "to make room for a cordwainer I know who wants this house and has money."

"Would you, then," said the philosopher, "turn me out when I am so comfortable here, having dwelt in this house 30 years?"

"It is my comfort," said Cleon, "and not yours that I consider."

"Then you prefer a cordwainer, I conclude, to a philosopher."

"No," said Cleon; "a landlord has no preference except to prefer rent money to no rent money."

So the cordwainer moved into the philosopher's house, and the philosopher went to live in the mean hovel of the cordwainer.

But once there, although contented enough, because he was a philosopher, yet he could not avoid the obtrusive facts of the absence of all those things which in his former habitation had grown habitual to him.

This was the first thing that puzzled him—how that which was not could be so obtrusive. "What," said he, "can be so entirely nonexistent as a negation? And yet here I am confronted with an obtrusive negation."

"I miss," said he again, "a chest of drawers, a table, a fireplace and the scenery from the window where I used to sit. I wonder if it will be so after we are driven out from our bodies because death, the final, inexorable landlord, demands a rental we cannot pay."

In time, however, the philosopher gradually ceased being oppressed by the obtrusive memories and grew accustomed to new associations.

"I wonder," said he, "if it will be so when we are immortals—after death at first painful regrets for what we have lost, and in the end nothing of the old but faint memories and a new set of associations. I wonder always and wonder most if philosophy will ever be anything better than clever wondering about the wonderful."—Chicago Open Court.

Animals Understand Hygiene.

Enough is now known of the nature of animal materia medica to excite interest and curiosity. There is abundant evidence that many species know and constantly make use of simple remedies for definite disorders, and at the same time observe rules of health to which only the highest civilization or the sanction of religious prescription compels man to conform.

It has been noted that the general condition of animal health, especially in the case of the herbivorous creatures, corresponds not inexactly with that of such tribes as the Somalis, men feeding almost solely on grain, milk, dates and water, living constantly in the open air, moderate in all things and cleanly, because their religion enjoins constant ablutions. Like them, wild animals have no induced diseases. The greater number do not eat to excess. They take regular exercise in seeking their food and drink only at fixed hours. Many of them secure change of climate, one of the greatest factors in health, by migration.

This is not confined to birds and beasts, for the salmon enters the soft water partly to get rid of sea parasites and returns to the sea to recruit after spawning. With change of climate, change of diet and perfectly healthy habits their list of disorders is short, though they readily fall victims to contagious disease just as recently numbers of the Hamran Arabs of the Sudan, as healthy livers and good Mussulmans as the Somalis themselves, friends and fellow hunters with Sir Samuel Baker, perished of contagious fever on the banks of the Nile tributaries.—London Spectator.

Mme. Faure.

One of the ambitious of Mme. Felix Faure, wife of the president of France, is to become the leader of fashions for the republic, as the Empress Eugenie was for the empire, according to popular report. Consequently she not only dresses exquisitely, but keeps the names of her modiste and milliner a secret. At the Grand Prix races she wore a costume so beautiful that the fashion papers not only described it at length, but illustrated it in colors. It was a creation of brown satin, chiffon and cream lace. —Paris Letter.

The experience of failure is one that comes in a greater or less degree to every one at times, trying the metal and probing the character as no prosperity can do.—Victor Hugo.

It is only after one man tries to get something that the crowd who wouldn't have it as a gift strive for it.—Los Angeles Express.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, OCTOBER 26, 1895.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

Bicycle Racing on Sundays.

Rev. C. E. Chase of the Congregational Church preached a well-timed sermon last Sunday on the evils of bicycle racing on the Sabbath. In view of the sequel to last Sunday's races the INDEX-TRIBUNE agrees with the parson. On that day the air was filled with blasphemy, there were several knock-downs and much ill-feeling engendered. The outcome of this was an assault on the following day upon a quiet and inoffensive young man which has brought woe upon the one and disgrace upon the several who participated in the affray. Had there been no bicycle racing in this place the trouble would never have occurred, as all those concerned were considered quiet, law-abiding young men until the bicycle racing business was introduced to demoralize the community. The INDEX-TRIBUNE will even go still farther than Parson Chase. It favors the abolishment by the City Trustees of bicycle racing, not only on Sundays, but altogether. It is an evil prolific of much mischief. At least that has been Sonoma's experience. If bicycle racing in this town cannot be conducted in a quiet and orderly manner it ought to go.

THE Durrant murder case will probably go to the jury about the first of next week. Assistant District Attorney Peixotto made his opening argument for the prosecution Thursday. It was a masterly effort, backed up as it was by the strongest circumstantial evidence that has ever been introduced in a murder trial. As to the guilt or innocence of the accused that rests with the jury, which may disagree but will never acquit.

In One Week.

There are some people that accomplish great results in one week; with others, the weeks drift by one much like the other. A great many would like to be up and doing if they knew where to find the work best suited to them. S. I. MERCURIAL POISON

Is the result of the usual treatment of blood disorders. The system is filled with Mercury and Potash remedies—more to be dreaded than the disease—and in a short while is in a far worse condition than before. The common result is for which S.S.S. is the most reliable cure. A few bottles will afford relief where all else has failed. I suffered from a severe attack of Mercurial Rheumatism, my arms and legs being swollen to twice their natural size, causing the most excruciating pains. I spent hundreds of dollors without relief, but after taking a few bottles of

I improved rapidly and am now a well man, completely cured. I can heartily recommend it to any one suffering from this painful disease. W. F. DALEY, Brooklyn Elevated R. R.

Already almost every party goer in Sonoma Valley is talking of attending.

In another column will be found an advertisement of a fine piece of improved residence property on Broadway, the most fashionable street in Sonoma, which is offered for sale for $1500. This property is now paying 9 per cent on $1500, for which sum it will be sold. The property belongs to Mrs. Kittie Moore Daves, who is desirous of selling on account of change of residence. For further particulars call at the INDEX-TRIBUNE office.

In last week's issue we stated the bicycle races in this place were to be held under the auspices of citizens of Sonoma. Mind we did not say all the citizens. Whereat Rev. Mr. Chase, in an excellent sermon preached in the Congregational Church Sunday, exclaimed: "I am a citizen of Sonoma, and I deny that I have anything to do with these bicycle races." This was very true if we except that the reverend gentleman is not a citizen of Sonoma City. He is a vicinity man. He lives just about thirty feet outside the incorporated limits of the town. You see, Parson, at times we are all liable to slips of both pen and tongue.

SEQUEL TO SUNDAY'S BICYCLE RACES.

A Young Man Assaulted and Terribly Beaten.

The bicycle races held in this place last Sunday were the cause of a fight, on the following Monday evening, in which Clark Gaines, a young man well and favorably known in this community, received a beating which will lay him up for many months. Besides being injured internally he had his right leg broken in two places and was otherwise bruised up about the head and face.

It appears that about nine o'clock on the evening in question Gaines was in Frank Weems' store, when Frank Burris, who was accompanied by Dan Burris and Henry Bates, entered. Gaines who was sitting down on a sack of grain, claims that he was immediately assaulted by Frank Burris, who knocked him down and beat him. Frank Weems, who was in another part of the store locking up for the night, had his attention attracted to the disturbance and rushed out on the street and gave the alarm. When assistance came Gaines was found covered with blood and unable to help himself. He was picked up, placed upon a mattress, and taken to his home, where he now lies a very sick man. Just what part Dan Burris and Henry Bates took in the affray, if any, is not at this time apparent. Bates claims he tried to act as peace-maker while Gaines asserts he assisted Burris in assaulting him. As the matter will no doubt be ventilated in the courts we refrain from commenting on the affair as we have no desire to manufacture public opinion in this case one way or another.

Serious Accident at Ignacio.

Section Foreman Barry of the S. F. & N. P. Railway was seriously injured last Sunday by being run down by a Donahue train. Barry and his crew, who had been at work fixing the road between Novato and Ignacio, were returning to the former place in the evening on a handcar when an excursion train suddenly came upon them. Barry's companions, being quicker than he was, jumped off the handcar just in time to save themselves. Barry, however, was not so fortunate and when the engine struck the handcar he was hurled with great force alongside the track, but luckily escaped being run over. He received injuries about the body, however, which were very serious. The handcar was badly wrecked.

The Bicycle Races.

The races held over the bicycle course in this place last Sunday brought out a large number of people.

The two-thirds-of-a-mile handicap was won by S. Dominiconi of the Golden City Wheelmen.

The one-mile scratch, which was participated in by S. Dominiconi, Frank Burris and Robt. Pasch, was won easily by Burris.

The one-third-of-a-mile scratch was an exciting race, and resulted in a dead heat between Frank Weems of the Sonoma Bicycle Club and S. Dominiconi. In running the race over again Weems came in a short distance ahead of Dominiconi and the race was given to him. Time, 39 seconds.

In the two-mile handicap Robt. Gilbert took the lead on the first lap and kept it to a finish, winning the race easily. Time, 5:40½.

Sad Death.

Freddy, the little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stein of the Sonoma House, died in Dixon, Solano county, on Friday of last week. The little fellow, who was a bright, healthy, chubby boy, had been sick only one week with the measels. The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holl of Dixon on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Stein have the sympathy of their Sonoma friends in their sad bereavement.

The Nordin Suit.

The civil suit instituted in the Superior Court of this county by Mrs. Nordin against her husband, Dr. Nordin, is still undecided. The property in controversy, the Agua Caliente Springs Health Resort, is still in charge of Trustee Cady. It is the general opinion that if husband and wife do not hurry up and fix their differences out of court they will both be ruined financially.

Sonoma Apples for Mexico.

Sixty boxes of apples were shipped from Batto's fruit dryer last Tuesday to Mexico. This is the first shipment of a number that will be made some time this month. At the present time the dryer is employing twelve boys and girls and a large quanity of apples are being handled.

Just received Ladies and Gents' Shoes, all sizes and styles. Cheap at Farmers Store *

ROAD MEETING.

A Dangerous and Impassable Thoroughfare During the Winter Time.

One of the worst and in the winter time most dangerous county roads in Sonoma Township is that which runs alongside and in some places right through the rocky bed of Stuart creek, which is converted into a turbulent and angry stream after a heavy rain storm. This strip of road which runs between the Gibson place and Glen Ellen, a distance of about half a mile, ought to have been abandoned by the county years ago and a new route selected in its stead. At times during the winter months it is not only dangerous but impassable, thus cutting off the farmers north and east of Glen Ellen from their Postoffice and nearest trading point.

The county neglecting to take any action in the matter the citizen of Glen Ellen and vicinity on Saturday last held a meeting at the Mervyn Hotel for the purpose of discussing ways and means for changing the road, to the end that a safe and passable thoroughfare be constructed in its stead.

The meeting was called to order by Thos. Johnson, who was elected Chairman. Cecil Raymond was selected to act as Secretary.

The following property owners were present: Messrs. J. Chauvet, F. Lemoine, G. Beatty, J. Frideger, V. Gordenker, B. F. Howard. R. P. Hill, Geo. Miller, J. V. Miner, M. Peter, L. Pieratt, I. Wright, R. Hilton, J. M. Zane, A. S. Woods, C. Raymond and many others.

The meeting having been called to order by the Chairman, Frank Lemoine stated that his object in calling his fellow citizens together was to ascertain whether any improvements could be made to the road in question. An animated discussion took place upon the subject, after which the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable that the road leading from and out of the main county road from Sonoma to Santa Rosa through Stuart creek to the town of Glen Ellen be deserted, and that in lieu thereof a new road be made, commencing at a point upon the westerly side of the said main county road near the entrance to the Warfield estate, now the property of J. G. Johnson, by the acquisition of so much of the land as lies on the west side of the main county road sufficient for the construction of the proposed new road, thus obviating the necessity of passing over the two crossings of the Southern Pacific Railway and through the Stuart creek.

Resolved, That a committee consisting of Messrs. Johnson, Chauvet, Lemoine and Woods be appointed to confer with the owner of the Warfield place with the view of ascertaining if he be willing to dispose of sufficient land for the purpose of constructing the proposed new road, and if so, upon what terms, and report the result of their negotiations to an adjourned meeting of this body.

Resolved, That this meeting do stand adjourned to Saturday, October 26th, in Mervyn Hall, at 3 P. M.

Shot for a Chicken Thief.

O. Elmore, who lives a mile-and-half from Petaluma, on Monday night last, was aroused from his slumbers by a noise in his back yard. Thinking his hen roost was being robbed he armed himself and went out to investigate. He discovered a man prowling around and called upon him to halt. The intruder paid no attention to the command and Elmore fired a shot at the man, who immediately fell and set up a series of howls. Elmore hastened to the spot where the man lay and found that he had shot him in the face. He bent over the man and was startled to find that he had shot his wife's cousin, Fred. Bryan. The bullet had entered Bryan's mouth, breaking his jaw and knocking out several teeth.

Bryan was in Petaluma that night at 11:30 o'clock, and claims that he went out of town too intoxicated to know what he was doing, and that he did not know that he was in the wrong place till he was shot.

The parties to the shooting are relatives to the late Nancy Meagher, the blind woman who was assassinated near Petaluma a few years ago, and the Bryans, mother and son, were charged with the murder and acquitted.

The World's Fair Tests

If you will dip your broom in clean, hot suds once a week, then shake it until it is almost dry, then hang it up or stand it with the handle down, it will last twice as long as it would without this operation.

The "Cackling Club" of Schellville, accompanied by their male friends, rendered a pleasant surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Howe last Thursday evening, in honor of their birthday. Vocal and instrumental music, dancing, playing of games and social conversation was the order of the evening. Supper was served at a reasonable hour and shortly after midnight the merry people returned to their homes well pleased with their evening's enjoyment.

To tell whether a thermometer accurately does its work, invert the instrument. If the mercury does not fall to the end, or if it breaks into several small columns, the thermometer contains air and is inaccurate. If perfectly made, the slender thread should fill the tube, or should break off at the bulb and fall to the end of the tube.

The Sugar Planters' Journal of New Orleans gives the following receipe for dipsomania: "Four oranges eaten every day are effective in removing the desire for intoxicants. One should be eaten before breakfast, one each at 11 A. M., 3 P. M. and 6. P. M."

News is the goods which the papers have on sale, and the quality of the goods has much to do with the popularity of the paper; consequently the successful newspaper is jealous of its reputation as a news vender. For a like reason newspaper publishers feel that the public does not fully appreciate the nature of the request sometimes preferred by individuals when they ask the editor to suppress an item of news. It is equivalent to saying to the merchant, "Please take that roll of cloth from your shelves and don't sell it." Few merchants would be apt to comply with the strange request, but the obliging editor often does out of kindly considerations for the business and personal welfare of citizens It is a good trait in human nature, but costs money to remove goods from the shelves and destroy them—for that is what it amount to in the department of newspaper merchandising.

COUNTY ITEMS.

Shooting Affray—Capt. Stofen Receives an Appointment—Other Matters.

Fred. Bryan, who was mistaken for a chicken thief and shot by O. Elmore, his cousin, near Petaluma, Monday night, has been taken to St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco.

J. H. Draper of Healdsburg has won the suit brought by him to have the will of his wife, Eleanor Draper, set aside. The jury was only a few moments in concluding that the woman who left all of her property to the churches and cut her husband off with $5, was of unsound mind.

Capt. P. N. Stofen, ex-County Treasurer, formerly of this place but latterly of Santa Rosa, is now master of the twin-screw passenger steamer, Fruitvale, plying between Sacramento and Rio Vista. For many years the Captain, who is an experienced navigator, was master of the James M. Donahue, plying between Tiburon and San Francisco.

A man named McCann shot Joseph M. Boylan at Melita on Friday night of last week. McCann was arrested the next day by Deputy Sheriff Weise and lodged in the Santa Rosa Jail. The shooter claims that Baylan was trying to rob him when he fired the shots. Boylan was hit twice, one shot taking effect in the neck and passing clear through and another bullet hit a rib on the left side and glanced off. His wounds are not considered mortal.

Bicycle Notes.

Robt. Gilbert of San Francisco, who won the two-mile handicap bicycle race Sunday, had it all his own way. He was given a handicap of 60 yards, but he did not need it.

Frank Burris, Sonoma's crack bicycle rider, met with an accident in Sunday's races, by being run into and thrown from his bicycle. His wheel was completely demolished and he was somewhat bruised about the legs.

An impression has gone abroad that the bicycle races in this place last Sunday were held under the auspices of the Sonoma Bicycle Club. The impression is a wrong one. The races were gotten up by individual members of the club and a number of citizens not members. As a matter of fact the club decided by a vote of its members not to participate.

Robt. Pasch would no doubt have won the mile scratch in Sunday's races if he had not collided with a dog that had strayed on the track. He took a header and was thrown from his bicycle and badly bruised. He pluckily mounted his wheel again, but could not recover lost ground sufficient to win the race. He took third prize, however.

A Storm at Sea

Increases the discomfort of the voyager. But even when the weather is not tempestuous he is liable to sea sickness. They who traverse the "gigantic wetness" should be provided with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which quiets disordered stomachs with gratifying speed and certainty. To the hurtful influence of a tropic, malarious or to rigorous or damp climate, as well as to the baneful effects of unwholesome diet and bad water, it is a reliable antidote. Commercial travelers by sea or land, mariners, miners, western pioneers, and all who have to encounter vicissitudes of climate and temperature, concur in pronouncing it the best safeguard. It prevents rheumatism and pulmonary attacks in consequence of damp and cold, and it is an efficient defense against all forms of malaria. It can be depended upon in dyspepsia, liver and kidney trouble.

Attention.

Prof. Heymann, the eye specialist and optician from Germany, will be at the Union Hotel, Sonoma, beginning Monday, October 7th, for one week, where he will treat, free of charge, all diseases of the eye. Fatal Accident.

Sanborn Johnson, a prominent farmer of Analy township, was killed by an accident on Tuesday evening. Mr. Johnson left his home, which is three miles from Sebastopol on the Bloomfield road, with a two-horse team. He arrived all right, and presumably left there for his home. The family were alarmed by the sudden appearance of the team and wagon at the house without a driver. On examination one of the wheels was found to be covered with blood. Search was immediately made, and the body of the unfortunate man was discovered on the road a mile from home, terribly crushed and mangled. It is thought Mr. Johnson may have had an attack of heart disease and fell from the seat beneath the wagon, which run over and mutilated him.

A fine piece of Oakland property is offered in exchange for a Sonoma Valley farm. Lot 40x200, located on San Pablo avenue and Twelfth street, Oakland. Hard-finished dwellling of eight rooms, barn, blacksmith shop and coal yard. A frontage of forty feet on both streets. Rents for $40 per month. Apply at this office at once as the exchange must be made now or not at all.

If you want the very best of wine, liquors or cigars go to the Sonoma House, and you will be politely served by Mr. Chas. Stein *

Narrow Escape.

There came near being another accident at the Warfield crossing on the Southern Pacific road last Thursday afternoon. As the freight train approached the crossing a horse, which was being ridden by Mr. Alexander of Kenwood, became frightened and bolted toward the track. Alexander, seeing that he was in danger, jumped from the saddle just in time to escape being run over by the train. The horse kept on, however, and succeeded in crossing the track by the skin of his teeth just as the train rushed by.

Johnson's Natural History.

President Julius H. Seelye, S. T. D., LL. D., Amherst, College, Mass. "Nothing in the department of Natural History which approaches it. It ought to be in every family and school in the country." *

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, OCT. 26, 1895.

They Knew Each Other.

"It's a wonder to me," said the dear old lady from the country as she stood waiting on the crossing, "that them electric cars don't run off the track sometimes."

"They do, ma'am," said the small boy at her elbow, who saw his opportunity.

"Mercy me, child, and how do the people keep from being run over?"

"They don't, ma'am. When one o' them cars goes gee whiz off the track, there ain't time for anybody to get out of the way."

"La, sakes, child! Let me get up on them steps. Now, are you telling me the truth?"

"S'hope to die, ma'am! But you ain't any safer on them steps than in the streets. When they take a notion, them cars can jest climb any steps in this town. Honest Injun, ma'am!"

The old lady turned and looked at the box. She saw a frank face, on the surface of which a few freckles floated, mild blue eyes filled with innocence and just a twinkle of mischief.

But she had seen boys before and knew the trade mark. Before she had time to apply her clubbed umbrella the urchin was gyrating down the street. He had seen that expression on a woman's face before, and he, too, knew the trademark.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Chased by a Lion.

One of the post rider's horses fell sick and died on the road, so he left it and walked on. After some time he became aware that he was being followed by a lion, which stopped when he stopped and went on when he went on, always keeping about the same distance behind him. Evidently it meant to wait till night to spring upon him. He knew that a few miles ahead was a deep drift in a river, and on the opposite bank higher up was a farm. He went down the drift, put a large ant heap between himself and the lion, hastily stuck his stick in the ground and hung his hat on it so that it should just show above the top of the ant heap, and then, still keeping the mound between himself and the lion, rushed down into the water where the bank concealed him. Then he hurried up stream till he got to the farm. Next day the ground round the ant heap was found torn up in all directions, and the hat had been reduced to a pulp.—National Review.

Privations of a Prima Donna.

Pity the privations of the prima donna! Here is a story of Mme. Patti: Once, when she returned from her daily drive, she was exceedingly thirsty and asked M. Nicolini to have procured for her a glass of water. Nicolini was horrified. "What," he shrieked, "ma mignonne, you know that you are going to sing tomorrow night, and the water will chill your blood. Oh, no! I forbid water." "Then give me a taste of wine," pleaded the thirsty Patti. "Wine!" roared Nicolini. "Ma mignonne, you are going to sing tomorrow night, and you know that wine will heat your blood. No; I cannot permit wine." "Please, cannot I have something wet?" pleaded Patti, with parched lips. Nicolini pondered long and deeply, and at length with his own hands carefully prepared for the great singer a soothing draft of magnesia.

His Preserver.

There are many varying ideas of what gratitude is and in what way it should find expression. It is reported that a soldier in the civil war—it matters not whether he was of the north or the south—meeting his former commander, expressed gratitude to him.

"Don't you know me?" he asked eagerly.

"No, my friend," said the former officer.

"Why, sir, you once saved my life!" exclaimed the other.

"Ah, how was that?"

"Why, sir, I served under you at the battle of ——, and when you ran away in the beginning of the fight I ran after you, else I might have been killed. I've always thought of you as my preserver—my benefactor—bless you!"—Youth's Companion.

KIDNEY.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney trouble for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. My sleep was disturbed and I became very thin and nervous. No appetite: bowels constipated. I have taken two bottles and gained fifteen pounds Sleep well. Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

$150.00 every month given away to any one who applies through us for the most meritorious patent during the month preceding.

We secure the best patents for our clients, and the object of this offer is to encourage inventors to keep track of their bright ideas. At the same time we wish to impress upon the public the fact that such as the "car-window" which can be easily slid up and down without breaking the passenger's back, "sauce-pan," "collar-button," "nut-lock," "bottle-stopper," and a thousand other little things that most any one can find a way of improving; and these simple inventions are the ones that bring largest returns to the author. Try to think of something to invent.

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS.

Patents taken out through us receive special notice in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the best newspaper published in America in the interests of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advertise, free of cost, the invention each month which wins our $150 prize, and hundreds of thousands of copies of the "National Recorder," containing a sketch of the winner, and a description of his invention, will be scattered throughout the United States among capitalists and manufacturers, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.

The Echoes of an Eagle's Nest.

The most wonderful echo in the known world is that heard from the Eagle's Nest in the lake regions of Ireland. The rock known as "Eagle's Nest" is the most prominent peak to be found among the heights that surround the Killarney lakes. Its apex is 1,250 feet above the surface of the water, and the extraordinary echo is heard to the best advantage from a spot 100 feet to the west from an opening called the Devil's Mouth. At that point the effect of the re-echoed sounds is absolutely startling, the slightest whisper being repeated as often as 1,000 times. The rebound is always clear and distinct and appears to come from the crags, cliffs and peaks which surround the experimenter on all sides.—St. Louis Republic.

An Italian Betrothal.

In Italy a formal betrothal is considered almost as binding and sacred as marriage itself, and a breach of promise, especially on the girl's side, is regarded with intense indignation. A girl who breaks her engagement is called a civetta—an owlet—possibly because owlets are used in Italy as decoys for ensnaring other birds. The epithet sticks to the girl for life and often proves fatal to her matrimonial chances.

Deaths In Battle.

Army surgeons say that the expression of the faces of soldiers killed in battle reveals the causes of death. Those who have perished from sword wounds have a look of repose, while there is an expression of pain on the countenance of those slain by bullets.

A Paradoxical Practice.

It is a curious fact that most of the philosophy of marriage is written by bachelors, most of the philosophy of bachelorhood by married men.—New York Evening Sun.

The annual death roll of suicides at Monte Carlo amounts on an average to 40.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound on over the seat of pain, will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all dealers.

PRICKLY ASH, POKE ROOT AND POTASSIUM
Makes Marvelous Cures in Blood Poison Rheumatism and Scrofula

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

For primary, secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893.—I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy without finding relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.
